Your trust matters here. This page explains, in plain language, what we do with the information you share on this website. No fine print, no surprises.

The short version

- We only collect what you give us. Your name, email, phone, and whatever you write when you contact us or book a call.
- We use it to reply and to serve you. Nothing more.
- We never sell your information. Not to anyone, ever.
- You stay in control. You can ask to see, correct, or delete what we hold at any time.

What we collect, and why

When you fill out a form, book a discovery call, or apply to a program, you share your name, email, phone number, and any details you choose to add. We use this to respond to you, schedule your call, and follow up on your request. That is all.

Please keep our forms for general messages and scheduling. Do not send private or sensitive information, such as health or financial details, through them. If you need to share something personal, we will find a more secure way together.

Like most websites, ours runs on Wix and uses cookies. Some are needed for the site to work. Others, from tools such as Google and Meta, help us understand how visitors use the site. You can block or delete cookies anytime in your browser settings. Where the law requires consent for non-essential cookies, we will ask for it.

Who sees your information

Only the people and tools that help us run this work: our website platform (Wix), our booking and email tools, and trusted advisors when needed. We also share information if the law requires it. We do not sell it, and we do not hand it to advertisers.

How long we keep it

We keep your information only as long as we need it. General messages, up to about two years. Records of work we do together, longer, to meet tax and business rules. When we no longer need something, we delete it. You can ask us to delete your information sooner.

Your choices and your rights

You can ask us at any time to:

- See the information we hold about you.
- Correct anything that is wrong.
- Delete your information.
- Stop us from using it in a certain way.

Depending on where you live, including the European Union, the United Kingdom, and California, you may have added rights under local law, and we honor them. Just email us and we will take care of it.

Young people

We work with teens and young adults in our youth programs, and a parent or guardian handles any registration for them. This website is not meant for children under 13, and we do not knowingly collect their information here.
